The lecturers' CV

Prof. Dr. Dietmar Segner is practicing orthodontics in Hamburg, Germany, and also teaches at the Orthodontic Department of Hamburg University. While heading that department he set up a post-graduate training program to teach students fixed appliance therapy and other fields of Orthodontics. In numerous lectures and publications he has talked among other things about new orthodontic materials and technologies and about the esthetic impact of orthodontic treatment. His practice is specialized in the treatment of adults, esthetic orthodontics, lingual orthodontics, and orthognathic surgery. Since many years Professor Segner has lectured on these and other topics at congresses and in more than 100 courses in Germany and ten other countries.

1979-1984	Dental School at Hamburg University
1984-1987	Orthodontic training with Prof. A. Hasund, Hamburg University
1987-1994	Instructor at Orthodontic Department, Hamburg University
1989-1991	Research work at Oslo University
1993	Ph.D. in Orthodontics, Hamburg University
1994	Professor of Orthodontics, Hamburg University
1995-1997	Head of Orthodontic Department, Hamburg University
since 1997	Private practice and part-time teaching
2003-2008	Chairman of the German Society of Lingual Orthodontics
2008/2009	Visiting professor, lingual postgraduate program, Ferrara University, Italy

Research Essay Award (1985) of the European Orthodontic Society

Memberships and contributions:

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Kieferorthopädie

American Association of Orthodontists

World Federation of Orthodontics

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Linguale Orthodontie (founding member, former chairman)

European Society of Lingual Orthodontics

World Society of Lingual Orthodontics

Subcommittee Orthodontic Materials in the DIN

ADA Committee on Standards

Dr. Dagmar Ibe took her university education, work as general dentist and specialization as an orthodontist in Hamburg, Germany. After years of establishing a postgraduate educational program and scientific studies at the Orthodontic Department at Hamburg University together with Dr. Segner she started a private practice in orthodontic in Hamburg. Dr. Ibe's special interests are the treatment of adult patients in close cooperation with an interdisciplinary team of specialists in the fields of restorative dentistry, periodontology, and maxillofacial surgery. Another emphasis of her lectures in Europe and overseas is orthodontic material research.

1982-88	Education at Hamburg University
1988-90	Work as general dentist in private practice
1991-1994	Postgraduate training with Prof. Dr. odont. Asbjørn Hasund at Hamburg University
1994	Orthodontist specialty
1991-1997	Instructor and researcher at the Department of Orthodontics, Hamburg University
since 1997	Orthodontic practice together with Dr. Segner, Hamburg
2008/2009	Visiting professor, lingual postgraduate program, Ferrara University, Italy

Membership in the following scientific associations:

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Kieferorthopädie e.V.

American Association of Orthodontics

World Federation of Orthodontics

Deutsche Gesellschaft für linguale Orthodontie e.V. (founding member)

European Society of Lingual Orthodontics

World Society of Lingual Orthodontics